DEATH SENTENCE FOR FLOYD ALLEN

Wytheville, Va., May 17.—Floyd Allen, first of the Hillsville mountaineers tried for the Carroll County court house murders, was adjudged guilty here today and will pay the penalty of his crime in the electric chair at Richmond. The jury was out all night and it was not until after 10 o'clock this morning that the twelve men had been brought into agreement.

When court opened today the jury was called in and the foreman questioned by Judge Staples. The jurors declared there were a number of points of difference established and it was doubtful whether a verdict could be reached. Judge Staples declared the case was of such magnitude he felt he must send the jury back with caution and advice.

The jurors again retired and it was only a short time before they announced they had agreed. Court reassembled and the foreman read the verdict of "guilty as charged in the indictment." Judge Staples held that was not the proper form. The foreman then explained that the verdict was one of guilty of murder in the first degree, the penalty being electrocution.

Floyd was charged specifically at this time with the murder of Commonwealth's Attorney William M. Foster prosecutor in the Carroll county court at Hillsville last March when the trial of Allen culminated in the killing of five persons Presiding Judge Thornton L. Massie, Prosecutor Foster, Sheriff L. F. Webb, Miss Elizabeth Ayers and Juror Augustus Fowler.

The tragedy created a panic in the little mountain town of Hillsville, where the inhabitants always held the Allen clansmen in deadly terror.

Arrests of several of the Allen followed the shooting, but five of the principals escaped to the mountains. Rewards for their arrests resulted in three of them being taken, but Sidna Allen, leader of the clan, and Wesley Edwards, his nephew, are still at large.

The other prisoners, it is expected, will be tried immediately.

Sentence was not pronounced on Allen today, as he may be called to testify in other cases. When the verdict was announced, Allen relapsed into despair.

Barely a handful of people heard the verdict. Armed detectives searched persons entering the court room.

Vandals Wreck Newspaper Office.

McAlester, Okla., May 17.—The Atoka County Jeffersonian published at Atoka, Okla., was issued today under trying difficulties. Unknown parties entered the office Thursday and pried all the forms and scattered the type over the floor. The books were burned and presses and fixtures damaged. It is believed that thugs were hired to put the Jeffersonian out of business. The commercial club of Atoka has offered a reward of $500 for the arrest and conviction of the vandals.

Amusements.

The Jordan Dramatic Company supporting Mr. James Griffin in high class dramatic and comedy successes will open a week's engagement at the Airdome Monday evening May 20. This popular company comes to Ada well recommended and assures the theatergoers a week of delightful entertainment. The opening play Monday night will be the beautiful pastoral comedy of "Peaceful Valley." The quaint character of Hosea Howe the student who waits on the table at a summer hotel to earn money for a college education will be in the capable hands of Mr. Griffin. This being one of the best parts in his large repertoire of plays. The supporting cast includes Miles A. Reed, Joseph Lee, George B. Phillips, Robert Cannon, A. Clayton Sinclair, Leila Neilson, Grace Alstott and Miss Eugenia Leslie.

Sixth State Fair of Oklahoma.

Cash prizes amounting to $50,758.00 are offered at the sixth annual Oklahoma State Fair and Exposition, Sept. 24 to Oct. 5, 1912, according to the annual Premium List just issued. The book contains 246 pages from cover to cover and is probably the most complete catalogue ever published by any fair or exposition. It is printed on a good quality of paper, handsomely bound and contains useful information about everything pertaining to agriculture, live stock, industries, etc. Much care has been shown in the arrangement of the twenty-one big departments and there are many handsome illustrations, including some of the most pretentious of the sixty big buildings and barns on the State Fair Grounds; floor plans of some of the buildings, and pictures which give some idea of the big amusement features that will be seen this fall. Pages would be required to tell everything in the big premium list which is not only the best ever issued by the Oklahoma State Fair and Exposition, but which appeared before any other premium list of any other fair in the United States. In other words, Secretary I. S. Mahan enjoys the distinction of being the first secretary to get his annual premium list ready.

Every county in the state of Oklahoma is urged to have a county exhibit this year and every person who is thinking of making an individual exhibit of anything under the sun is asked to write for a Premium list. It will be sent on application to I. S. Mahan, Oklahoma City.

POLITICAL POT BOILS IN OHIO

Much Depends Upon Verdict of Buckeye State—Presidential Candidates Stump State.

Columbus, O., May 18.—The storm of politics which has been sweeping back and forth over the Buckeye State for nearly two weeks became a veritable tempest today, and there is every indication that it will continue up to Monday midnight, a few hours before the polls open for the presidential primaries. Today four aspirants for the presidency are trailing one another over the state. Tonight a vast army of stump-speakers, representing the choicest oratorical talent of both parties, will hold forth in every city, town and cross-roads hamlet, from the Pennsylvania to the Indiana lines and from Lake Erie to the Ohio River. The early prediction that the campaign would be the most vigorous ever waged within Ohio's boundaries has been amply fulfilled.

Ohio has no presidential preference primary law, but the primaries to be held next Tuesday are expected nevertheless to make it plain who is favored by the voters of this state for the presidential nominations. The republican voters will vote for two candidates for delegates to the national convention from their district. The ballots will not bear the names of the presidential candidates. The voters therefore may be somewhat in the dark as to whom the candidates for delegates favor for the presidential nomination, but workers at the polls no doubt will find a way to indicate to the voters how the candidates stand. In a few places there will be LaFollette candidates for national delegates, but as a rule there will be only Taft and Roosevelt lists. Delegates will be named in the twenty-one congressional districts. The six delegates-at-large completing Ohio's forty-eight in the national convention will be named by the state convention here next month.

The democratic primaries will be practically of the straight-out presidential preference variety. Only in one essential feature does the method differ from that already tried out in a number of the states. This feature is the provision that the winner of the preference primary shall be authorized to name the delegates-at-large. At first glance this provision may seem an unwise delegation of power, but it is to be remembered that the candidate has much at stake and, if Governor Harmon's name is to be presented to the Baltimore convention he naturally desires delegates from his own state whose loyalty to him cannot be under suspicion. The plan was adopted by the state committee at the suggestion of the Harmon forces.

The result of the Ohio primaries is expected to determine definitely the chances of President Taft for re-nomination. His friends believe he will carry his own state, but they realize that his cause is well-nigh hopeless if he does not. The president finds his principal opposition here among the republican farmers. In the cities they are believed to be more favorably inclined toward him. Ohio is near enough to the Canadian frontier to feel the effect of the Canadian reciprocity treaty negotiated by the president, and the Buckeye farmers are very much opposed to the measure.

The results of the primaries to the Roosevelt candidacy are believed to be equally important. Should the Roosevelt sweep continue as it has been going lately, it would not necessarily give the Colonel votes enough to nominate him. It would, however, according to the close students of the situation, either make his nomination inevitable sometime after the first ballot or would bring about a condition where the strong men of the party would be in a position to unite upon a third man whom they might have some hope of electing.

The democratic contest is a straight-out fight between Governor Harmon and those who oppose his nomination for president. The opposition has been led by William J. Bryan, who has stumped the state in the interest of Woodrow Wilson, who is expected to have the general support of the Ohio progressive democrats. Friends of Governor Harmon declare that he is sure to win out. They expect him to name the six delegates-at-large and to carry the majority if not all of the congressional districts. Among the farmers the governor is very popular. By the operation of his one per cent tax rate law, which he forced through the legislature, the taxes on farm lands have been very materially reduced. The Harmon opposition is confined to the progressives and is due to the general feeling that the governor, though he has proved a comparatively progressive state executive, is not progressive enough on national matters. This feeling has been most pronounced since the governor advised the constitutional convention not to propose the initiative and referendum.

The fourth annual summer race meeting will be held at State Fair Park, Oklahoma City, from and including June 6 to July 4, 1912. There will be three stakes of $1,000 each and the outlook for a successful meeting is most flattering, according to information from Secretary I. S. Mahan. The general purpose of the meeting is to promote the live stock interests of the state and the State Fair and Exposition, under whose auspices the races will be conducted for the first time this summer. Officers of the State Fair are of the opinion that racing is a diversification the people enjoy when everything is conducted open and above board. Stall room for no less than three hundred class horses has been already engaged for the twenty-five days meeting.

STATUS OF THE AKEN

ANTI-SCHOOL BILL

R. M. Roddie returned this morning from Oklahoma City, where he has attended the hearing of the protest against the Akin bill. As a result of the hearing he is in high spirits, although the case will not be concluded for some days to come. He says they have already shown up enough testimony to kill the measure but that they expect to kill it so thoroughly that the supreme court will find no life in it when it is presented there. The attorneys have done a great amount of work in running down fraudulent signatures, and have also located over 400 who signed at least twice. The only question seems to be how many thousand illegal signatures will be proved up. From all indications Akin's crowd, whoever they were, have completely deserted him leaving him with the bag to hold.

W. M. Franklin in Town.

Senator W. M. Franklin, candidate for congressman-at-large, was in town a few hours today. He is making an active canvass, and when the votes are counted will in all probability be somewhere near the top of the list.

HEARING PROTESTS AGAINST THE Akin MEASURE

Oklahoma City, May 18.—Names on the same petition from one or more counties and on which objections were raised by the protestants, were introduced in the hearing on the Akin bill, before Secretary of State Ben F. Harrison Friday morning. In connection with that attention was also called to the abbreviation of names of counties, and these were urged as defects sufficient to throw the petitions out, or that they be declared illegal.

Petitions showing, as alleged by the protestants that certain county names had been changed or stricken out were sought to be introduced. Akin objected to this and suggested that these changes could have been made by the clerks employed by the Initiative and Referendum League as well as by those for Akin. O. T. Smith, attorney for the protestants, declared that such was an insult to the fair name of the state and to the secretary as well. Akin responded that he did not mean it that way at all.

When H. E. Robinson went on the stand, Akin asked him if he would swear that any one of the persons to whom the "Initiative and Referendum League" had addressed letters which have been returned by the postmaster did not reside at or near the postoffice given after placing his name on the Akin petition.

Attorneys for the protestants quickly objected to Robinson answering the question. Secretary Harrison did not permit the witness to answer.

PONTOTOC COUNTY FRUIT GROWERS ORGANIZE

This morning a number of fruit growers met at the office of Frierson Bros. and organized the Pontotoc County Fruit Growers' Association. The following officers were elected: J. D. Rinard, president; Geo. S. Frierson, secretary; W. B. Johnson, treasurer.

The object of the organization is the handling of the fruit crop to best advantage. Similar organizations have been a source of much profit in other places, enabling the members to co-operate in an effective manner and secure the best possible prices for their fruit.

It is estimated that from 50 to 60 cars will be shipped from Ada during the coming season.

RICHESON CRUSHED BY NEWS OF GOVERNOR'S DECISION

Boston, May 17.—Clarence V. T. Richeson was stricken with an attack of hysterical delirium in the death chamber of the Charleston state prison late tonight while being visited.

Twitching and clawing, the condemned man rolled and tossed from side to side of his bed, raving about two men who, he cried out, were "watching and following him." The attack was marked by spells of groaning and moans after which the prisoner would lapse into intervals of unconsciousness. Then he would revive and continue his ravings.

A physician administered sedatives, which quieted the patient. The ravings of the condemned man were attributed to the strain upon him of the constant vigilance of the two guards of the death watch. The guards sit close in front of the prisoner's cell and do not allow their eyes to leave him a moment day or night. Richeson has been subjected to the strain now for over 75 hours.

From talks with the business men of Ada today, the News is of the opinion that the sentiment in favor of a special session of the legislature is almost unanimous. A majority of them have heretofore been opposed to it, but since the supreme court decision that much of the Indian land is non-taxable, they want to see something done that will reduce the expenses of government. The News itself is of the same opinion. We saw no necessity of calling a special session to suit the convenience of a bunch of prospective candidates for congress who wanted the state re-districted, but the present situation demands prompt action, and it is not believed possible that the governor will hesitate to call the session at once.

A HARMLESS WAY TO DARKEN THE HAIR

A Little Sage and Sulphur Makes Gray Hair Vanish—A Remedy for All Hair Troubles.

Who does not know the value of sage and sulphur for keeping the hair dark, soft, glossy and in good condition? As a matter of fact, sulphur is a natural element of hair, and deficiency of it in the hair is held by many scalp specialists to be connected with loss of color and vitality of the hair. Unquestionably, there is no better remedy for hair and scalp troubles, especially premature grayness, than sage and sulphur, if properly prepared. The Wyeth Chemical Company of New York put up an ideal remedy of this kind, called Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Hair Remedy, and authorize druggists to sell it under guarantee that the money will be refunded if it fails to do exactly as represented.

If you have dandruff, or if your hair is thin or turning gray, get a bottle of this remedy from your druggist today, and see what it will do for you.

This preparation is offered to the public at fifty cents a bottle. Special Agents, Gwin & Mays Drug Co.

An Unusual Eclipse.

The solar eclipse of April 17 last was of an unusual type. The relation of the earth, moon and sun was such that there was not only no agreement as to the time totality would last, but even doubt as to whether there would be any period of totality at all. The event proved that this doubt was justified. At St. German-en-Laye, near Paris, one of the spots where totality was expected, the eclipse was annular, not total. That is the moon was not large enough to entirely hide the sun, and at the time when totality otherwise would have occurred, a rim of light remained exposed surrounding the moon.

This result was predicted by M. Fayer in the Revue Scientifique for March 29. The Abbe Moreaux, in the Revue Generale des Science, refused to commit himself as to the character of the forthcoming eclipse. He suggested the possibility that it would be neither regularly annular nor total. Such a result being possible if "the mean apparent diameter of the moon was just insufficient to produce totality." In this event, the mountains at the moon's limb might project far enough to break up the surrounding ring of the sun. Something of this sort apparently did happen. The prediction in the Connaissance de Temps was a totality of two seconds in the neighborhood of Paris. The Nautical Almanac predicted that totality would be seen only in Spain and Portugal.

It is not often that an eclipse occurs so close to the border line between two types, that the general character can not be predicted with reasonable certainty.—New York Evening Post.

The great picture, "War's Havoc," shown at the Majestic last evening was all that was claimed for, and it is a source of gratification to know that it will be repeated this evening. The central figure in this drama is a Southern bride, who braves death itself to aid her husband and the cause for which he is fighting. She even seizes a locomotive and causes a collision with a train bearing troops of the enemy, and saves her life by jumping into the river a moment before the crash comes. The Howards in their refined vaudeville act, also captured the large audience completely, and will appear again this evening.

Marred by a Muzzle

It was the early hours of the morning and not yet light when Brown woke up with a sense of impending dread.

He had suddenly remembered that it was his wife's birthday and he had bought her no present. And Mrs. Brown would be wanting to know why.

Ah, an idea! Creeping stealthily downstairs, he put a very large plate on the hall table and then, still silently, let the dog into the house. The preparations were complete.

"Many happy returns of the day, my dear!" he chortled. "As it is your birthday I have got a little surprise for you. Be quick and come downstairs and see it."

Full of anticipation, the good lady followed him and was just in time to see him kick the dog out of the house and stare in amazement at the empty plate.

"If that wretched dog hasn't eaten all the beautiful cake I brought home for you last night!" he cried in well acted anger.

But he had overlooked one little fact. The dog had worn his muzzle. It took a long time to explain the incident away.—Answers.

S.S.S. CURES BLOOD POISON

When the blood becomes infected with the virus of Contagious Blood Poison, the symptoms are soon manifested. The mouth and throat ulcerate, copper-colored spots appear, a red rash develops on different parts of the body. At the first sign of the disease, S.S.S. should be taken, for the trouble is too powerful and dangerous to trifle with. If allowed to run on the tendency is to work down to the bones and nerves, and sometimes it makes a complete wreck of the sufferer. The disease can be made no such headway if it is stopped, the poison removed, and health preserved. S.S.S. cleanses the blood and removes the insidious virus, cleanses the circulation and makes a complete and permanent cure by driving out the poison. S.S.S. quickly takes effect on the blood, and gradually the symptoms disappear, the health is improved, the skin cleared of all spots, sores and blemishes, and when S.S.S. has thoroughly purified the all spots, sores and blemishes are left. S.S.S., a purely vegetable remedy, cures Contagious Blood Poison because it is the greatest of all blood purifiers, tested and proven for more than forty years. Home treatment book and any medical advice free to all who write.

OKLAHOMA'S LEADING INDUSTRIES

Thirteenth Census Statistics Issued by the Census Bureau.

Washington, D. C., May 17.—An advance bulletin on the statistics of manufactures for the state of Oklahoma for the calendar year 1909, as shown by the Thirteenth Census, has been issued by Director Durand of the Bureau of the Census, Department of Commerce and Labor. It was prepared under the supervision of Wm. M. Stewart, chief statistician for manufactures.

The manufactures of Oklahoma have increased rapidly in their importance, although many of the industries are as yet in their infancy. A marked increase in the independent industrial activities of the state commenced with the development of the oil fields in 1907 and the discovery of natural gas. This cheap fuel has attracted manufacturers, who have established a number of new enterprises. The proportion which the manufactures of the state represent of the total value of the products of manufacturing industries in the United States increased from seven hundredths of 1 per cent in 1890 to seventeen hundredths of 1 per cent in 1904 and twenty-six hundredths of 1 per cent in 1909.

In 1909 the state of Oklahoma had 2,310 manufacturing establishments, which gave employment to an average of 18,034 persons during the year and paid out $9,285,000 in salaries and wages. Of the persons employed, 13,143 were wage earners. These establishments turned out products to the value of $53,682,000, to produce which materials costing $34,153,000 were used. The value added by manufacture was thus $19,529,000, which figure best represents the net wealth created by manufacturing operations during the year.

The most important industries, arranged in the order of the value of products, are:

Flour-mill and grist-mill products. This industry, which was the first in importance among the manufacturing industries of the state, gave employment in 1909 to 842 wage earners and reported products valued at $19,144,000 or 35.7 per cent of the total value of manufactured products for the state. During the decade 1899-1909 the value of flour-mill and grist-mill products increased over 300 per cent.

Oil, cottonseed and cake. The statistics presented include those for all establishments engaged primarily in extracting oil from the seed and in refining oil for sale. The industry shows a decided increase during the decade in the average number of wage earners, the value of products, and the value added by manufacture.

Lumber and timber products. This industry embraces establishments engaged in logging and also sawmills, planing mills, and wooden packing-box factories. Its growth was most rapid during the latter half of the decade, and in 1909 more wage earners were employed in this industry than in any other in the state.

Printing and publishing. This classification includes establishments which publish newspapers, books, and periodicals, job-printing offices, and those engaged in bookbinding and blankbook making. This industry reported more establishments, and, with the exception of the lumber industry, gave employment to more wage earners than any other in the state.

The butter, cheese and condensed-milk industry shows a greater rate of increase from 1904 to 1909 both in value of products and in value added by manufacture than any of the other industries shown separately. The bakeries and broom factories show by far the greatest percentages of increase in value of products from 1899 to 1904, and the broom factories show also the greatest rate of increase in value added by manufacture for the same period. Remarkable rates of increase are shown, however, for nearly all of the industries for which a separate presentation is made, and generally for both periods of the decade.

MRS. MCGILL BROKE DOWN

Gives the Real Facts In Regard to Her Case and Tells How She Suffered.

Jonesboro, Ark.—"I suffered a complete break down in health, some time ago," writes Mrs. A. McGill, from this place. "I was very weak and could not do any work. I tried different remedies, but they did me no good. One day, I got a bottle of Cardui. It did me so much good, I was surprised, and took some more.

Before I took Cardui, I had headache and backache, and sometimes I would cry for hours. Now I am over all that, and can do all kinds of housework. I think it is the greatest medicine on earth."

In the past fifty years, thousands of ladies have written, like Mrs. McGill, to tell of the benefit received from Cardui. Such testimony, from earnest women, surely indicates the great value of this tonic remedy, for diseases peculiar to women. Are you a sufferer? Yes? Cardui is the medicine you need. We urge you to try it.

Mayor Gaynor As a Champion Of Liberty

One of the greatest of the reforms instituted in New York by Mayor Gaynor relates to indiscriminate and unnecessary arrests and the old practice of demanding bail in all cases, no matter how trivial. When Mr. Gaynor entered the city hall he had a better knowledge of police conditions than any man who had preceded him. For years he had been expounding his contention that "this is a government of laws and not of men." He knew that the police had been arresting people without justification or warrant and that wholesale injustice had resulted. Thousands of citizens were being arrested improperly and compelled to spend a night in jail or employ a professional bondsman.

He set his face strongly against this evil, and the police were instructed that they must enforce the law in a lawful way. In consequence the number of arrests has largely decreased, while respect for the law has greatly increased. In 1909 the New York police made 220,334 arrests. In 1910, which was Mr. Gaynor's first year in office, only 170,681 arrests were made, and last year this number, despite the growth in the city's population, was decreased to a total of 153,768, of which number 18,791 were made on summonses.

Mr. Gaynor's attitude on this question was made clear by his remarks to two new chief magistrates whom he had appointed for Manhattan and Brooklyn. He said to them:

"I regard the office of chief magistrate the most important of all. The statute gives you large powers, and I expect you to exercise them. And, of all things, I trust you will gradually do away with trivial arrests and also with the requirement of bail in trivial cases. There is no law compelling magistrates to require bail in every case. Bail is only to prevent people from running away. Why, for instance, should a man with a wife and children or any household be held in jail pending an adjournment on a charge of a petty battery or the like? The practice of requiring bail for trivial offenders has brought into existence here a large number of professional bondsmen who go bail for $5 and upward. Put these men out of business. The matter of petty arrests. Instead of resorting to a summons or notice, I shall take up with the police commissioner hereafter. You know things can be done only little by little."

A TYPICAL STORY OF GAYNOR

How the Mayor Helped an Aged City Employee Who Had Been Discharged.
A year ago a deputy chief clerk in the board of elections in New York city was discharged after many years of service on account of his age. He was eighty-two years old and had lost much, but not all, of his efficiency. He sought reinstatement so earnestly that he came to be regarded as a nuisance. But his efforts were in vain. Finally one night last winter he took his aged wife by the hand and visited Mayor Gaynor at his home. He might have seen the mayor as easily at his office, but he did not know that. Mr. Gaynor listened to his story and told him he would see what could be done. The next morning he wrote the president of the board of elections calling his attention to the case.

"Though this man has passed his prime," he said, "the city should have more humanity than to turn him out to die in his old age. That is no way to treat faithful city employees." The president of the board replied that the old man's place had been filled and that there was no vacancy to which he could be appointed. The mayor has no authority over the board of elections, so he could not order the old man put back to work, as he would have done if he had been employed in a city department, but he continued to fight for him. He fought so hard that two weeks ago he had the satisfaction of seeing him restored to a position which assured him a comfortable living.

This old clerk was only one of many people entirely unknown to him who have complained to Mayor Gaynor of injustices and have found in him a staunch champion.

SOCIALISTS NOMINATE DEBS AND SEIDEL

Indianapolis, Ind., May 17.—Eugene Victor Debs of Terre Haute, Ind., was nominated late today as a candidate for the presidency of the United States by the National Socialist convention.

Emil Seidel, former Mayor of Milwaukee, was named for the vice presidential nomination.

Mr. Debs was not in the hall when the result of the ballot was announced, but Mr. Seidel promised he would make the campaign "as lively as the capitalist parties had ever seen."

Mr. Debs was opposed for the nomination by Mr. Seidel and Charles Edward Russell of New York. After the result of the first ballot (which was Debs 65, Seidel 56 and Russell 54) had been given out, Mr. Seidel moved that the nomination be made unanimous and it was seconded by Mr. Russell.

Many candidates, including Kate Richards O'Hair of St. Louis and Anna Agnes Mahley of Seattle, were named for the second place, but three Mr. Seidel, John W. Slayton of Pennsylvania and Dan Hogan of Arkansas, remained to be voted upon. Mr. Seidel on the first ballot received 159 votes, Hogan 73 and Slayton 24. Mr. Hogan's motion to make Mr. Seidel's nomination unanimous was seconded by Mr. Slayton.

Aside from the nominations the only other business of the convention at the afternoon session was the adoption of a section of the constitution which places the party as taking a decided stand against "violence as a weapon of the working classes." The session was the most heated of the convention and the section was not adopted until after several hours of debate, which many times ran into personalities.

First Methodist Church.

Services at the First Methodist church tomorrow will be held as follows:

Sunday school at 9:45 a. m.
Preaching at 11 a. m., sermon by Rev. L. P. Law.
Memorial Services Confederate Veterans at 2:30 p. m.
Preaching at 5:30 p. m., subject, "The Trail of the Serpent," by Rev. L. P. Law.

The evening service is put at 5:30 on account of the baccalaureate exercises at the Normal at S. Those who attend the evening service will have ample time to reach the services at the Normal chapel, and it is to be hoped that none will stay away from the evening service through fear of not being able to reach the other. A cordial invitation is extended to all the people of the city to attend the services of our church tomorrow, and all Christians are requested to pray that God's blessings may be upon our meeting. Let the members of First Methodist church particularly fast and pray for the coming of the Lord to hundreds of hearts in the city of Ada. It is the time set by your official board for the revival and has their undivided support. While the season is on let us make the most of it. Come. CHAS. L. BROOKS, Pastor.
